

Introduction to our services and explanation of costs

We offer a comprehensive range of services and options to help you create a dignified funeral service that uniquely represents the personality and preferences of the person who has passed away. Our staff will help you by using their knowledge to offer suggestions and guide you through this difficult time.

There are two main components to the costs of arranging a funeral:

The Funeral Directors Services

The costs of providing our professional services, attending to the transfer and care of the deceased, embalming (optional), provision of a hearse and limousine if required, funeral director and staff, the coffin of your choice and any further additional services that you may choose.

Disbursements

Disbursements are third party fees such as Crematorium charges, Doctor's and Minister's fees, etc. Additional expenses for products and services such as death announcements, floral tributes, printed Orders of Service and catering will be added where applicable.

The total cost of a funeral may vary greatly depending upon the services that you require and the choices you make. We will explain fully, all of the options available to you, and the costs associated with each. We will always provide a detailed, written estimate of the total cost.

We offer a comprehensive range of coffins, caskets, urns, cremated remains caskets and jewellery which are all available to view on our website.

The Funeral Director's Services

Our clients usually visualise a funeral which includes the removal of the deceased from the place of death, professional fees, preparation of the deceased, use of visitation rooms, cortege via a local address and provision of bearers for the funeral service.

To facilitate the above, our detailed pricing is as follows:
